Full Stack Developer

ABOUT

Jessica is Brazilian and decided to change her career after moving to Sydney, Australia in 2018. Jessica attended a coding bootcamp at Coder Academy to learn software development and full stack technologies most commonly used in IT area. Although it is challenging to learn so many tools and their utilities in just a few months, her motivation is using them in future to create projects that improve people lives and knowing that even after much learning, there will always be many other technologies and tools to learn.
